

“Women were grinning from ear to ear....”

On Tuesday October 22nd, the Multinational Group organised once again the popular Catwalk/Vintage sale, with many thanks to TUSIAD.

My favourite recurring event was finally here! The vintage sale and ever so popular catwalk, where our inner model can live out her childhood dream!

My friends had been briefed; we had all agreed to be at TUSIAD at 11am on the dot to get all the goodies before they disappear! Walking in, we were greeted by smiling faces, and tempting snacks.

The women coming down the stairs were grinning from ear to ear despite the often VERY HEAVY bundles they were carrying.

However, first things first. We shop till we drop, and then we take a break to munch on the delicacies offered and enjoy a hot cuppa!

Up the winding stairs we went, and lo and behold, the room was already full of ladies looking for their next outfit. What truly struck me was this: never before, had I been in a room with so many women, where you could hear a pin drop! It really was a sight, everyone concentrating on finding their next prized possession. I know I did, it took some scavenging, but I am now the proud owner of a superb jade faux-fur coat, and a petrol-coloured leather biker jacket that I don't know how I previously lived without!

All in all, this was one hugely successful event, it was FUN, an event that everyone wants to come to, I mean, show me a woman who doesn't like shopping!....And on a more serious note, it is in keeping with the times about sustainability, minimizing waste and helping keep our planet healthy. After all, how does that saying go? One (wo)man's trash is another (wo)man's treasure, right?

You bet it is!
